Processes & Concurrency

→ Elixir has what is called Processes which can be summed up as seperate actions which can send and recieve messsages between each other.

→ Elixir can run thousands of processes Concurrently which means that they run at the same time seperate from each other process

→ Elixir Processes can be acessed through their own PID(Process ID)