Why functional programming?

1. Helps break down Complex problems down step by step

2. helps code redability: functions read like a reciepe to transform data

3. Concurrency: allows thousands of processes to run all at the same time